Dear Mr. Lillienhein,

Thank you for coming into our classroom and speaking to us about your experience in The Holocaust. I appreciate it. I can imagine how hard it must be to talk about such things and it was very generous to do so for us.

It amazes me how someone can be treated so badly and that they are still alive. Especially when you were talking about how much you were hit and how they didn't feed you at all. And yet, you are still alive. I find it amazing.

I am glad that you were able to keep all of your memories from The Holocaust so that you could tell us and the world what happened, and to help prevent it from happening again.

Sincerely,

Will Shandling
